CloseupBy ROSS MUNRO
(C.U.P. Correspondent).

Ottawa, October 21.—The proposed visit of the King and Queen to Canada next summer will have far-reaching political implications which will influence foreign policy and possibly the Government leadership.

Apart from spectacular receptions planned for Their Majesties and the loyal enthusiasm that will be engendered, it is believed by many well-informed observers here that the occasion of the royal tour will provide an opportunity for close advisers of the British Government to determine at first hand, the exact attitude of the Canadian Government concerning Empire relations which became a little obscure during the European crisis.

Considerable criticism has been directed at Prime Minister Mackenzie King and his Cabinet colleagues for not assuring Britain that the Dominion fully supported the Chamberlain policy. The Prime Minister's cautious attitude displayed throughout the crisis and his determination that Parliament must decide the issue of peace and war has been generally accepted in the capital as sound.

Empire Parley.

But there are indications that during the visit of the monarch the position of Canada in the Empire—particularly military—will be the subject of many secret parleys. It has been suggested that high British Government officials are somewhat perturbed over the apparent coolness of Canada to any commitment on even the Empire issue.

It is notable that the national defence department is assisting the state and external affairs departments in drawing up plans for the trip and aiding in the arrangements.

One of Canada's best-known educationalists of a decade and a half ago, who has risen to one of the most influential positions in the government service will direct the plans for the visit. He is Dr. O. D. Skelton, under-secretary of state for external affairs, former professor of political science and dean of the Faculty of Arts at Queen's University. Since 1925 he has handled all important foreign relations matters for both Conservative and Liberal governments and will play an important, if anonymous, part in the behind-the-scenes discussions incident on the June sojourn of the King and Queen in this country.

Crowns King's Career.

It is taken for granted here now that the federal election will not be held until next fall due to the royal visit. The government appears to feel that nothing should be allowed to interfere with the complete success of the tour. A personal element also enters into the situation. Mr. Mackenzie King will be the first prime minister ever to play host to the King and Queen in Canada and it is only a human vanity that he should wish to be able to enjoy that honour without first going through a difficult and acrimonious general election. These of course, are only a few considerations, but they all point to an election after the royal party has left the country.

There are many influential persons here who believe the visit will be the crowning touch to the Prime Minister's long public career extending back 30 years. In some circles the belief is expressed that Mr. Mackenzie King might resign as Prime Minister and Liberal leader after the King and Queen's

COUPONS HONOURED

Herb Westman and Jack
Brown to Stage Kicking Duel

By BILL CAIRNS.

Queen's University landed in town last night and this afternoon at 2.30 in Molson Stadium they meet the Kerr Klan in a bid for their initial victory of the season. Many are inclined to favour McGill but the man who should know and who does know what the outcome should be has not made such a statement. That man is Coach Kerr and he does not prophesy an easy win for the Redmen. While Doug Kerr is sitting on the bench worrying about the result of today's game, two other coaches will be more than equally anxious over the final score of the other Intercollegiate game at Western where Varsity meets the Mustangs. The outcome of both of today's games may clarify the Intercollegiate Football situation.

McGill will be out to stop the determined last stand of Queen's which will be no mean assignment.

The rumours which have been flying about in some papers concerning the injuries of the Tricolor Squad seem to be a bit far-fetched and quite contradictory. The fact remains that the Redmen's opponents will be no push-overs. Western, playing at home, have a good chance to stop Varsity if they can combat the Blues' aerial attack. If they fail to do this, Varsity will have more than a good chance of gaining the points for a win.

Full House Expected.

Indications last night gave the impression that close to a full house would be at Molson Stadium this afternoon for the game. Student interests in the football team this year has reached a new high and all those who can be on hand will be at the Stadium to witness what might turn out to be the real proof that McGill has the team to beat this season. The band, which gave an exceedingly good performance last Saturday at Toronto, will be in full regalia. Last week's excursion, which is now history, was successful, and it seems that next Saturday may see another run of students to Kingston.

Tricolor Expects Turn of Tide
As Gaels Fight for First WinBy MAC HITSMAN.
(Sports Editor, Queen's Journal.)

Kingston, Ont., October 21.—Although Queen's has dropped the first two games of the schedule to Varsity and Western, the Tricolor's supporters are expecting the turning point to come in Montreal this Saturday as it did last year. In 1937 Ted Reeve's outfit lost the two opening games and then started a winning streak which lasted until the championship was won in an overtime playoff in Toronto.

This year Ted Reeve had to rebuild and at present finds himself with the lightest squad seen in Queen's uniforms in many a year. The average weight of the wingline is less than 180 pounds and the heaviest player, Doug Annan, weighs only 189. Despite this weight handicap, the Tricolor fields a rugged line which so far has successfully stopped far heavier opponents. The big worry is substitutes, only one having had previous senior experience.

In the two games already played Queen's has shown a great team for thirty minutes but then faded badly. Against both Varsity and Western the Tricolor was leading by a substantial margin at the halfway mark. Then the team began to slip and before the boys settled down to business the lead was gone in both cases. With a week's practice to remedy obvious defects, Ted Reeve is hoping to be able to find the cause of the previous defeats and field a sixty-minute team in Montreal this Saturday.

GUEST EDITOR

A. C. FORREST, Editor of The Varsity, University of Toronto, who supervised publication of today's Daily, Mr. Forrest took particular pleasure in writing the headline on the report of the Track Meet. He is also author of today's editorial.

S.C.M. STEPS OUT
ON SUNDAY HIKEGroup Will Visit St. Helen's
Island and St. Lambert

A hike along the South Shore from Longueuil to St. Lambert is featured by the S.C.M. for this Sunday afternoon.

Leaving Strathcona Hall at 2 p.m., the hikers will proceed by tramway to the Jacques Cartier Bridge. After a short stay at St. Helen's Island, the group will hike up the south shore of the St. Lawrence to St. Lambert where they will have tea at Beth Webster's home.

All freshmen and upper year friends of the S.C.M. may join the group. No expense is entailed—all that will be needed is a couple of street car tickets.

Those interested may leave their names at the front office in Strathcona Hall before 1 p.m. today. Further information may be obtained from any cabinet member of the S.C.M. or from the Hall.

UNION WILL SPONSOR
THIRD RUGBY DANCE

Immediately after the big game this afternoon the Union will open its doors for all McGill and Queen's fans who feel the urge to swing it to Archie Etienne's rhythmic tunes till 7.30.

This will be the third rugby dance this season at the Union for which Archie Etienne and his boys have played. Tickets at a dollar per couple, including refreshments, are on sale at the Union Tuck Shop and Bill Gentlemen's office today.

The Union has extended a special invitation to the Queen's football team, who will be admitted free of charge.

Let's get a couple of dates tonight. Can't have to go to bed early and get some sleep.

Why? Tomorrow's my tough day; gotta shave.

sented in Club's Mem-

To the strains of a gypsy orchestra, the Cosmopolitan Club began its second year with a meeting at a Hungarian restaurant, on Thursday evening. About fifty students were present, representing China, Japan, India, British West Indies, France, Germany, Hungary, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, Russia, Italy, Greece, England, South America, the United States, and Canada.

Between the course of elegiel myelv es gomba and borju porkolt burgonyaval, Ainsworth Scott welcomed the newcomers to the meeting and explained the purpose of the club. Nominations were called for in order to fill two vacant positions on the executive; Fay Thomson was elected vice-president and Betty Anthony member at large. Andy Kelen, former member of the executive, drew attention to the vine-leaves festooned across the ceiling and explained their use during the Hungarian Grape Festival.

After the torta es compot, Madeleine Saint-Martin, guest artist of the evening, sang several songs in French and English. Maurice Hecht did an impromptu monologue on the European situation and Fraser Macmillan tap-danced.

The Hungarian orchestra then played for dancing, interspersing gypsy melodies with current favorites, until the party broke up.

Football Dance Held At Mount Royal Hotel

Previous football dances having been well attended, the Mount Royal Hotel will be the scene of a monster dance tonight for McGill and Queen's supporters.

Blake Sewell and his orchestra will supply the music which starts at 9 p.m. The committee in charge has announced that dress may be either formal or informal as those who attend please, since the affair is strictly a football "hop."

Tickets, at a dollar per person, are on sale now at the Union.

MAC CO-ED NOTES

Once again Macdonald was honored with rain for its Sports Day, but it really was a nice day. I mean nice for those who wanted an excuse—such as charley horses or rheumatism—to get out of the running. You know, rainy days do something to rheumatism, but there always seems to be charley horses around rain or shine (get rid of your horses, rugby team, and score a point or two).

NOVEL ENTERTAINMENT

Dean O'Neill Will Address
Freshmen in Cafeteria

A new and original entertainment has been planned for this year's Freshman-Freshette dinner and dance to be held on Monday at 6.30 p.m. in the Union.

The freshettes will hold their banquet in the Union Grill Room, where the Women's Union has made arrangements for a special program of entertainment. There will be entertainment presented by the freshettes themselves, according to the committee in charge. The Grill Room will be decorated for the occasion.

Among the freshettes taking part in the entertainment are Irene Lawes, Marjorie Townsend, and Pat Neilson, who will entertain the gathering with a few songs. A tap-dance, to be presented by a freshette, will be a special surprise. Other acts will include impersonations by Nancy Gilmour and recitations by Eleanor Laing. The banquet is to be under the chairmanship of Sylvia Grove, the newly-elected president of the freshette class and this year's winner of the Bovey Shield.

While the co-eds are banqueting, the freshmen will be having their own dinner in the Union Cafeteria starting at 6.30 p.m. Dr. O'Neill, Dean of Science and guest of the evening, will speak, and Neville Wykes, president of the Arts Undergraduate Society, has promised to say a few words. Included among the features of the evening is a community sing-song to be led by Stuart Reid of the Glee Club.

After the freshman and freshette banquets, everyone will meet together in the Ballroom to dance to the rhythm of Archie Etienne and his swingsters.

Tickets for the dinners are obtainable from class officers: Tim Burgess, Hyman Surchin, Gui Caron, and Ed. Tupper.

CKAC BROADCASTS

bie and Ted Piper Will Speak

A resume of activities at McGill will be heard over station CKAC this evening at 8 o'clock. The programme "In My Opinion" given by Mr. T. H. Carveth, will be replaced by a broadcast about this university.

There will be a discussion of the aspects of university life in general and McGill in particular, as seen by a graduate and a member of the faculty. Dr. W. D. Woodhead, Head of the Department of Classics, and Hugh Crombie, president-elect of the Graduates Society will speak on this subject. Ted Piper, an undergraduate, will give a short talk on the views of the university from the point-of-view of a student.

Found—Roll of five-dollar bills. Will owner please form a line at the North entrance to Arts?

Freshettes seem to be a fast crowd (at running, you understand). They seemed to get around the track faster than any other class.

The Coffee Shop is in full swing right now, but if any more mice appear, either it or the helpers will come to an end. Some girls can experiment with white rats, but when a little brown mouse appears they run a mile. There must be something in the colour to which this phenomenon may be attributed.

VARSITY RETAINS ITS TRACK
CROWN AS RELAY PROVIDES
SPECTACULAR MEET CLIMAXDOUBLE TROUBLE

By Horky

Someone remarked that it was too bad that Mrs. Brown had twins. They backed up their assertion by enumerating their exploits yesterday. Placing one, two in the broad jump; Walter winning the discus; Harold placing second in the 220 dash and javelin to contribute much to McGill's defeat. Many assert that Harold's quarter mile in the relay race actually won the title. He gave Laidlaw a tremendous lead which was overcome by Hugo Purdie, who turned on a blazing amount of speed.

Johnny Loaring's decision to run the 880 instead of the quarter was disastrous. Cooke crossed Loaring up to win the event by a wide margin, and the latter was not able to display his true form in the 120 hurdles final which immediately followed.

Practically no one noticed the terrific burst of speed that was displayed by Bill Fritz in the final quarter of the relay. All eyes were turned on Borsman and McHenry, who were given a terrific ovation as they raced around the track. What a race!

Fate caught up with the Redmen when Mason had to be scratched from the relay and 220. Vaughan was laid low by the flu earlier in the week, and was in a weakened condition. Coach Van Wagner allowed him in only one event, the 440, in which he placed second.

The McGill work-horse turned out to be Carl Moskowitz who showed a remarkable return to form after the Interfaculty meet. Carl was in no less than six races, climaxing with the first lap of the relay. His victory over Loaring was commendable, while his fall in the low hurdles was bad luck at its worst.

Following is the record of the McGill men:

Cooke—1st in 880 and mile runs.
Bryant—1st in high jump and 3rd in 220 low hurdles.
Frankton—1st in three-mile run.
Moskowitz—1st in 120 high hurdles.
Mason—2nd in 440-yard run.
Cowan—2nd in mile run.
Peck—2nd in high jump.
Borsman—3rd in 880 run.
Falls—3rd in 220-yard dash.
Todd—4th in three-mile run.
Escoffery—4th in broad jump.
Kissane—2nd in shotput.
Hughes—2nd in discus, 3rd in javelin, 4th in shotput.
Owen—4th in javelin.

S.C.M. NOTES

Today: Will the following canvassers please call at the Front Office of the Hall today for financial folders: D. Stanier, G. Flower, C. Leonard, D. Lloyd-Smith, D. Lin Yuen, K. Cowan, A. Pick, J. Patrick, S. Baburek, G. Greaves, D. Richan.

Sunday, 2 p.m.: A hike is being organized to leave the Hall at 2 p.m., ending up at the home of Beth Webster in St. Lambert. There will be no cost except for car-fare to this end of Jacques Cartier Bridge, from which the party will hike first to St. Helen's Island, and then to St. Lambert. Anyone who would like to come is invited. Please leave your name in the Front Office of the Hall before 1 p.m. today.

R.V.C. ELECTIONS HELD

Bovey Shield Winner Elected
Freshettes' President

Heavy voting marked the R.V.C. first-year elections which were held on Thursday in Moyse Hall. The newly-elected president is Sylvia Grove, this year's winner of the Bovey Shield, while Peg Carter was elected vice-president and Margaret Main secretary-treasurer.

WINS TWO EVENTS

LLOYD COOKE, who is shown breasting the tape in the 880-yard run, beating out the highly-touted Johnny Loaring. Cooke also won the mile run, tying the Intercollegiate record set last year by Crichton of Toronto.

STUDENTS HOLD CUP
IN CLOSE MATCHES

McGill students were given a run for their money by a group of club-wielding professors yesterday morning. The professors and students met at the Royal Montreal Golf Club in the Annual Staff vs. Students golf tournament. The J. B. Harrington Trophy, which is awarded the winner, and which was won last year by the students, was successfully defended by them, although the professors came within two points of seizing it. The victory gives the students thirteen wins to the professors' four in the eighteen years that the trophy has been in competition. One match ended in a draw.

The competition was handicap four-ball match play. The scoring used was one point for best ball and one point for the aggregate on each hole. One point was counted for the first nine, one for the second nine and one for the match.

The professor with the lowest gross after the day's play was Dr. Donigan, with an 86 low. Dr. McMahon was runner-up with an 88 low. Art Berubel led the students with a 78 low and Paul Lund was runner-up with an 81 low. Dr. Donigan and Art Berubel will have their names engraved on the cup.

NEWMAN CLUB HEARS
MR. GEORGE MOONEY

The Newman Club will hold its second meeting of the month on Sunday at 10 a.m. in Congress Hall. All those who attend will have the opportunity of hearing Mr. George Mooney who is to be the guest speaker at this meeting. After his recent stay in Mexico, Mr. Mooney is in a position to speak freely on the political, economical and social conditions in that country.

The Newman Club welcomes all Catholic students to its meetings. A special students' Mass is held every first and third Sunday of the month at 10 a.m. in the Lay Chapel.

TWO RECORDS BROKEN

Relay Race Decides Meet—
Cooke, Fritz, Brown Twins
Star

By HORACE GRAVES.

The fickle finger of fate pointed straight at McGill's Intercollegiate Track team as Toronto Varsity retained its Intercollegiate title by the narrow margin of two points yesterday afternoon at Molson Stadium before 2,000 spectators. For the first time in twenty-eight years the meet was decided by the last event of the afternoon, the relay race, and it was befitting that Captain Cordie McHenry was the one who carried the baton over the line in second place one foot ahead of McGill's Hubert Borsman, to retain the crown for his team.

Going into the relay race the Varsity squad was leading the McGill team by a single point. A finish for the Redmen ahead of Varsity would have given them the championship. However, as luck would have it, Coach Van Wagner was forced to use a substitute for Vaughan Mason, ace quarter-miler and anchor man of the team, who had not recovered from an attack of the flu, although he placed second in the 440 run, the only event of the afternoon in which he entered.

Borsman Brilliant.

An air of tense-ness invaded the field as it was announced that the meet depended on the final event, and all eyes were turned toward the McGill and Toronto men. Carl Moskowitz, Glen Cowan, Hugh Purdie and Hubert Borsman ran in that order for McGill with the brilliant Borsman trailing McHenry by a foot at the finish after a sensational last quarter, in which the McGill anchor man raced neck and neck with the defending Intercollegiate sprint champion.

The relay race climaxed one of the most successful meets ever held. The final tabulation gave Toronto 56 points against McGill's 54, with Queen's and Western trailing with 36 and 19 respectively. Adding to the lure of the gathering was the presence of five British Empire Games' stars who along with McGill's Lloyd Cooke were the individual stars of the afternoon.

Bill Fritz, world known sprinter, ran up twelve points for Queens as he won the 220 yard dash, 400 yard run, placed third in the 100 yard dash, and was anchor man on the winning Queens relay team. Smiling Jim Courtwright added twelve more to the Kingston University's total as he won the shot put and javelin throws and placed third in the discus. Varsity's twin power-houses, the Brown twins accumulated 19 points, as Harold placed second in the 100 yard dash, the javelin.

From the Varsity

It has been a pleasure for the editor of The Varsity to be able to spend a part of this week on the campus, not only to study the set-up of The Daily, but to learn what he could about McGill as a whole. Varsity and McGill are the only Universities in Canada which have daily newspapers, and for that reason it is felt that they have much in common.

It is interesting to note how the character of a university is in many ways reflected in its newspaper. For editors to be able to get together for a few days of the year, discuss problems in connection with their papers (which are almost always problems closely related to the university itself), and try and establish features which should be of mutual advantage to both, is one of the greatest aims of the Canadian University Press.

Fortunately the Staff of the Daily uses an eight column page, and the make-up may then be styled after that employed by the larger cosmopolitan newspapers. At Toronto the printing is done on the campus by the University Press and we are confined to six columns. Having a larger proportion of advertising also, Varsity reporters find it necessary to confine themselves to much shorter stories, and fewer features. Toronto reporters also do the complete work of night-editing themselves, and although the night editor gets paid for this, his lecture attendance may be affected somewhat by the fact that he works through until 7 o'clock in the morning.

A feature of the C.U.P. which made its appearance in the sister member of that organization yesterday, and appears in the Daily today, is the column entitled "Capitol Closeup." This is written by Ross Munroe, Canadian Press Correspondent of Parliament Hill. It is felt that the Canadian Universities are very fortunate in receiving this commentary as a weekly feature.

Mr. Munroe, former news editor of The Varsity, joined the staff of the Canadian Press immediately after his graduation from U. of T. two years ago, and at the present time is one of the most promising journalists. The column which is written in Ottawa, is sent to the C.U.P. secretary, from whom it is relayed to the other Universities, to be published in the final issue of the week.

Every college paper will have difficulties and problems which will have to be faced and solved by the individual mast-heads and student's administrative councils. But it has been possible to standardize the technical details of news-writing and reporting on all Canadian College papers by the use of the C.U.P. hand-book which many of the editors have found of inestimable value in training their new reporters in the art of writing. This has been done without in any way curbing the individual style of young writers, or affecting the editorial policy of the various editors.

WHAT NEXT?

By DIPLOMAT

WHY A COLUMN?
Today the world is in the throes of a crisis. For short while after Versailles men thought Democracy had come to stay—that it had triumphed. It was felt that the world would settle down to a normal healthy life, ruled by reason. However, those who concluded the terms of Peace and drew up the Treaty of Versailles failed to take certain facts into consideration. They failed to realize that Europe, since the break up of the Roman Empire, had been based on a system of Nations. They failed to realize that these Nations had ambition. They failed to realize that this ambition took the form of Nationalism.

In some instances the Nation and the State were coterminous. In the case of countries such as France and England this was a definite fact. The French people lived in France. They had French civilization and a French outlook. But the remade Europe of 1919 contained a great many States whose boundaries were superimposed on the national entities of the continent with a fine disregard for national "civilizations" and ethnic aspirations.

The results have been unhappy and Europe is being remade today. Will the realignment of the borders of states in Europe at the present time satisfy the demands of the various ethnic groups concerned? Can this regrouping be carried on without war? Is the present work of the type which will last for long?

Such questions and a host of others will confront the most casual observers. We all have opinions on these topics—even if latent or ill-informed we have opinions. This column will attempt to explain these facts in terms of National policy on the part of the more important nations in Europe—particularly Britain—Through Britain we will attempt to see how these situations, which seem far off now, may eventually effect every one of us.

Naturally the writer of a column such as this has had but limited experience, and a definite amount of time to follow these fast moving events which are no longer news, by the time they are printed. Hence the interpretations placed on the facts recorded are not bound to be correct. At the best they will be an approximation of what MAY happen. Thus if any readers have divergent ideas or wish to make their own opinions known they may do so by addressing a letter to the author care of the Daily. This will be a forum of opinion and your comments and opinions will be most welcome.

WHITHER GERMANY?
Yesterday Hitler turned Sudetenland over to the Civil Authorities under the direct control of Henlein. This marks a definite stage in the German "drang nach Osten" or march to the East. Whether it marks a triumph for British Diplomacy is quite another question.

In order to examine this we must see what the German policy has been and is. Prior to the Nazi regime in Germany the Government of the Weimar Republic had been pro-Russian. However, Hitler, after gaining power through the oppression of the Communists showed an avowed hatred for Russia and one of the main principles of his whole policy has been this hatred of Russia. To understand this we must go back to the days of Germany in the Great War when a sweeping victory had been won over Russia and concluded by the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk of 1917. As a result of this treaty Germany acquired the great wheat lands of southern Russia and sovereignty over some 66 million people, some of whom were of German extraction. This was swept away in the subsequent Treaty of Versailles and it is to regain this land and these people that Hitler has set forth.

Another aim of the Hitler foreign policy has been to acquire and keep the friendship of the English. This is set forth in black and white in Hitler's book "Mein Kampf" in which he bitterly attacks the old regime for having antagonized England and for having tried to rival her Colonial Empire. Hitler wants no colonial Empire—rather does he want to keep the peace with Britain and march to the East—down to Danube to the Black Sea and then expand into southern Russia.

At the end of the last war France emerged as the champion of the small states in Europe. French hegemony was the order of the day.

If Hitler hoped to accomplish his aims—to regain control of European Russia he found it would be necessary to do certain things—which are all set forth in "Mein Kampf." So far the story has run true to the story book. There is no reason for Hitler to change his plans now. Particularly as they are working out so admirably.

First Hitler had to have arms. He managed to get these by defying the League of Nations and building above his quota in air strength and then presenting the world with a fait accompli. On March 16th, 1935, he disregarded §V of the Treaty of Versailles and rearmaged all branches of his forces. On June 18th, 1935, he signed a Naval Agreement with Britain whereby he gained complete control of the Baltic and became strong enough to do serious damage on the North Sea to the navy of an opposing force. On March 7th, 1938 he reoccupied the Rhineland. Thus he was prepared to defend his rear on the German Western front and to push to the east.

In pushing to the east he had to have allies. These he found in Italy and Japan. The value of the latter alliance is nebulous at the moment but it is pregnant with possibilities in an eventual war with Russia. Germany was determined to smash the French hegemony in Europe and has succeeded in bringing the Little Entente to naught and in smashing the Franco-Russian accord. Thus France has been diplomatically isolated. She is reduced to the rank of a second rate power, without prestige on the continent.

Hitler has marched to the East. He has Austria and now he has Czechoslovakia. Each he has got through very questionable diplomatic means and by sword rattling. But the main point to be noticed is that he has got what he wanted without fighting for it. Why has this been so? Why have the British and French not resisted him—as they very well could have had they taken up arms to prevent the reoccupation of the Rhineland, which they had every right to do in 1936. The answer seems obvious. Britain is quite convinced that Germany is going East. Britain realizes that she will have to support France in any European war in which she is engaged and therefore if she can keep France out of war she can stay out of war herself. This she has done by isolating France—by making her abandon her allies in Central Europe, and by allowing Germany to go east where she will eventually tangle with Russia.

What is Germany's next move? Already it is apparent. Germany is creating a nuisance value by agitation in Alsace. Germany now proposes a non-aggression treaty with France by which France will acknowledge Germany's right to a huge air force—larger than all others combined in Europe. Germany demands French colonies. The treaty will most likely be signed and Germany will be granted her large air force and the quid pro quo will be the abandoning of the German Colonial demands from France and the cessation of propaganda in Alsace.

Germany is also paving her way towards Russia by drawing the Balkan countries into her entourage. Turkey has accepted a large loan. Lithuania, necessary for German Adriatic operations, is being attacked internally as was Austria. An accord with Poland seems imminent. And so Germany moves East.

CANDID SNAPS

Demonstrating their enthusiasm, approximately 50 camera fiends braved a dismal drizzle to congregate in the Engineering Building Thursday afternoon for the first meeting of the newly-formed McGill Camera Club. The following were elected: President, Barney Smith; vice-president, L. C. G. deTonnancourt; secretary, R. F. Buchan; treasurer, E. Coping.

Plans for print criticisms and general competition at the fortnightly meetings were discussed. The president announced that several of the leading photographers of Montreal had agreed to speak to the club members at future meetings.

All members are requested to be present at the next meeting which will be held in room 37, Engineering Building, at 5 o'clock, Thursday, October 27. At this time the constitution will be presented for consideration, and an executive report on courtesy discounts for club members at photographic supply stores will be given. A list of prices on darkroom equipment will also be available at this time.

One lone co-ed brightened a predominantly masculine atmosphere. There must be a good many others who have an interest in things photographic. Let's see you there next Thursday, girls.

And the faculty! A queer faculty indeed, if there isn't at least one member who finds time to dust off a lens and enjoy the solitude of the darkroom. Come and hang your prints on our walls and let us get a whack at you for a change.

Incidentally, the constitution which will be presented at the next meeting will be BRIEF. No technicalities, no regimentation, no redundancy to confuse and inhibit the members.

The "T-snaps" competition announced recently deserves consideration. Instead of unposed candid shots, why not try a posed picture? Make it look unposed, of course, but you are more likely to get a really good picture. Bill Gentleman, or some such celebrity, would make a good subject (if you can get him to pose).

Look around your classrooms, your own rooms, your eating place... you may be passing pictures every day that would make salon prints. Step to the right and the left of your usual path through the campus; you'll see that walk, or that tree, or fountain for the first time.

And speaking of salon prints, you really should get around to the Montreal Art Museum, if just for the principle of the thing, to look over the photographic show there. We can't tell you its name, but the initials are The Fifth Canadian International Salon of Photographic Art. It is rumored about, and with some justification that the exhibited prints are not up to the stand of previous years, but nevertheless, it's all very worth while for you camera clickers. You'll see there many stars to which you would do well to hitch your wagon.

Take your camera to the games, take it to class, take it to meals, take it down on Ste. Catherine street east. Campus Life prints will not only awaken nostalgia in years to come, but more practically, and of immediate importance, may win you an Annual, if your efforts should meet with the approval of the judges.

Much of the excess drinking rife in the University of Cape Town is due to the effort which is made to prevent that occurrence, it is contended in a front page editorial in their South African student paper. Students have never been taught how to use alcohol, merely how to abuse it, it is alleged.

So students will be able to buy beer with their meals now. They argue that if a student is able to get liquor when he wants it, he won't find any joy in getting obscenely drunk Saturday night.

The New Neurosis

My Dear Euphemia:
I was so glad to hear of you after so many years. I have just heard from a friend of yours being admitted to the Euthanasia Asylum. My dear, I congratulate you on being able to enter such a socially accepted rest-cure sanatorium. I hear on all sides that scions of the best New York society are there and even daughters of Hollywood stars. I am thinking of being transferred from the asylum where I am now. The social tone is becoming awful; they are admitting people like — next door who never had a yacht to an ex-husband's name.

But of course I am glad to hear the news of your taking the rest-cure. I just can't imagine how you stayed outside so long. You'll be entering with the post-war class and all... But I remember that at school you seemed to hold to what was called Tradition and Culture, things which survived in many places up to the late forties. They were strong in our family in the thirties before the second depression broke our family up.

Ah, the idyllic thirties! Remember how we used to go for quiet Sunday afternoon drives in the country? There were brooks and trees that you only had to get behind the billboards to see, and birds were singing (I am told) though of course you couldn't hear them for the traffic. Remember how your father used to pass cars all the way home, and it was so funny, he couldn't get a ticket because he knew the brother of a magistrate?

Remember how the family used to read Esquire together around the fireside? Remember our first grown-up party and how we both became sick on Manhattans? The life was so calm and sweet. Remember how after an evening we would let our boy friends kiss us a tender goodnight? So tender that they would stay doing it till about three o'clock?

I am thinking of how the view from Mount Royal at night was lovely and relaxing, at least after they removed the Sweet Caporal sign with the whirling arms. Except for the Frontenac Gasoline sign. Those were signs of the future!

Remember '29? It didn't touch us much except for a second cousin who got religion at the time and later got schizophrenia. But the second crash was just the same only more so and hit everybody. My dear, father says he'll never get over the years in jail that followed. Remember how your Uncle Fred cut his throat with a razor when he heard that Dental Preferred had fallen from three hundred to one hundred?

And they told us in school that things like Tradition and Culture could survive financial crashes. Of course they were wrong. Ah, well, breakfast in London, tea in San Francisco. Good-bye, dear.

Yours neurotically,
MYRNA.

COW "ACTRESS" AT FAIR

New York—Two hundred aristocratic milch cows are to be bathed, dried and milked during every twenty-four hours for all to see in one of the exhibits at the New York World's Fair, 1939. Ten at a time are to parade from their adjacent barns to a huge revolving platform and there yield their milk, which will be immediately chilled and pasteurized and bottled for the customer in an hour after bossy has relinquished it.

MY LONDON
Ye men who write of Sussex, Of Chancery Ring, Ye joyous bards and singers, Whence shall my praises spring?

I cannot praise my London For winding leafy lanes, Or rushing river's turmoil By placid rustic fanes.

And yet I love my London, Its mist and soot and grime, Its dismal rain in winter, Its dust in summer-time.

It's easy to find beauty Near Paul's old dusky dome, But in despoiled suburbs I find it near my home.

There's beauty in the gardens Daffily planned and trimly set; There's a thrill in yellow brilliance From the roof tops, dripping wet.

And the laughter of the children Playing games in busy streets, And the rhythm of the traffic With its syncopated beats.

There's a strong, majestic, grandeur In the people's humdrum mien, With convention as their master 'Mid the conflict, deep, serene.

Yes, indeed, I love my London With its sere and withered face, And I know I'll never change it For a more sequestered place.

FROSH JOURNEY TO CAPITAL IN EXHIBITION TILT

Oppose University of Ottawa This Afternoon

EXPECT STIFF TEST

Coach Wally Markham to Experiment With New Plays

Yet to swallow the bitter pill of defeat, an ambitious Freshman squad led by Coach Wally Markham left the field-house today at 8.30 a.m. to tackle the University of Ottawa in an exhibition this afternoon in the capital. As far as statistics go, this is the first exhibition played by the Frosh outfit within the past five years, if Coach Markham's memory doesn't fail him.

In the Ottawans the Red gridders will stack up against the toughest assignment they have yet encountered, for speaking in football terms, their opponents travel in higher circles. In fact they play Queen's seconds and R.M.C. regularly in a league of their own. Thus their calibre easily rates them with that of the Red Intermediate squad.

In a recent encounter R.M.C. beat the University of Ottawa 5-0. Although the soldiers made a dismal showing in their exhibition here, losing by the score of 36-5, the Freshmen will still go into the game as the underdogs.

Coach Markham is not worried about the outcome, and the expected defeat is immaterial. The actual object of the exhibition is to give him the chance to try out the substitutes, some tricky passes, and some little-used plays.

The outcomes of the games played to date have been so close that Coach Markham has been forced to rely on the starting line-up only. Now that half of the schedule has been completed and the final stretch is approaching, it will be an invaluable asset to find out what subs can be used without fear of any miscues. The match will also be of help in keeping the Frosh on their toes in preparation for their coming contest this Tuesday against the Green and Gold at Macdonald College.

Loyola has emerged as the team to beat for the championship, and unless an upset occurs when they meet Bishop's in their next scheduled tilt, the deciding contest will be played next Saturday on Loyola's home ground when they entertain the Frosh.

It is expected that the entire team will make the trip today despite the attraction offered by the crucial Queen's-McGill tussle here at home. Four winners of the raffle will also be interested spectators.

"Dear Folks: Please send four hundred dollars at once; the school is bankrupt and each student has to pay double tuition. Kindly make cheque out to me. Your son, Elmer."

SWORDPLAY

By Doug and Jack

For half-time entertainment during the Queen's-McGill game this afternoon the McGill Fencing Club promises a feature attraction when they present Irv. Smith and Jack Herman and two outstanding local fencers, George Tully and Charles Otis, members of Canada's 1936 Olympic team. Smith and Herman are expected to perform with foil and epee, while the Olympians will give their popular display of flashing sabres.

George Tully, who represents the Westmount "Y" Club, is Canada's foremost fencer, having won the three Dominion titles in 1937 and having repeated this unique feat last year. Charles Otis is a veteran of local fencing wars and has been runner-up in many provincial tournaments. Smith and Herman are members of last year's championship intercollegiate team.

The styles of these men offer an interesting contrast since each one displays a different and effective technique. Irv. Smith concentrates on smart foot work and one of the fastest attacks seen locally, while his partner Herman is noted for his precision and perfect style. George Tully relies on a perfect defence and uses speed and his surprise flash attacks to score his point. Otis presents a fast-moving target and a veteran knowledge of the game.

SOCCER SQUAD TO ENCOUNTER CADETS

Tilt Commences at 11.15 A.M. on the Upper Stadium

The Upper Stadium will be the scene of the first league game for the McGill Soccer Squad when they resume hostilities against R.M.C. today at 11.15 a.m. The Redmen are fielding a strong team this year and they should be able to win from the speedy R.M.C. Cadets.

The R.M.C.-ites can always be depended upon to dish out a fast brand of soccer, because their rigorous military training keeps them in the peak of condition at all times. In the two games that the Redmen played last year they tied the first by a score of 1-1 and won the second 3-2, taking advantage of their superior condition in the dying minutes of each game and scoring the tying and winning goals respectively.

Campbell, President of the Junior City Soccer League will be the referee for the tilt. The Redmen play the Cadets in a return engagement on the 12th of November at the latter's home grounds.

The McGill line-up follows: Snell, goal; Laing and Saltibus, fullbacks; Northcott, Hagen, Bailey, halfbacks; Archer, Grad, outsiders; Janikun, centre; Tetreault, Murrill, insides. Alternates: Soroka, Leonards, Molson, Richan.

POLOISTS WIN FIRST ATTEMPT

Juniors Score 11 to 3 Victory to Start Season

Coach Wayland and Assistant Fred Urquhart Do Excellent Job

Thursday evening the Junior Water Polo team scored an impressive win over the supposedly stronger K. of C. Juniors. The K. of C. were last year's city champs, and it seems that the McGill squad must be in fair trim since they rammed with ease to an 11-to-3 victory over what was thought to be a much superior team.

Players outstanding in Thursday's game include Archie Cameron, who bore the brunt of McGill's offence in the first three periods by tallying five goals. Barza, Eden and Issenman filled the rest of the bill with two goals each.

This is the first time in a number of years that the junior team has come through with any gratifying results. Good results can be accomplished if the team is given some visible and audible support. The games in the junior division are free to McGill students—especially to the R.V.C.

The line-up for the game was: McGill—Findlay, Eden, Barber, Barza, Richmond, Issenman, Cameron, Kennedy and LaForest.

Colombus—Whelan, Phennemore, Birmingham, Gauthier, Anderson, Neville and Luck.

A special practice will be held on Monday at 5.30 p.m. in the K. of C. tank for these players only: Kennedy, LaForest, Issenman, Shaw, King, Rheder, Jardine, Quart and Cambell.

C.O.T.C. TEA DANCE

Gather in Mess Today at 4 P.M.

Following the usual custom there will be a tea-dance after the football game at the Mess of the McGill Contingent C.O.T.C. this Saturday afternoon from four until eight o'clock. This tea will be under the aegis of the O.C., Col. Morrissey and Mrs. Morrissey.

All members of the Mess, that is all recruits and the re-enlisted members are invited to be present and to address this invitation to a girl. There will be dancing in the dining-room of the Mess.

RUGGER SQUAD SEEKS THIRD STRAIGHT WIN

Seeking its third successive victory, the McGill rugger team meets the Montreal Wanderers at 2 o'clock today on the lower campus. One of the strongest squads to wear the Red colours has been showing great form in winning all its games in the Montreal English Rugger League. Paced by the stellar playing of Captain John Ricker, McGill has every chance of placing high in this city league.

Next Saturday marks the battle for intercollegiate honours when Varsity comes to town. Queen's is also entered in the Collegiate League but will not field a team this year so the winner next Saturday will be declared champion. Toronto has held the title for the last five years and McGill has high hopes of upsetting their rivals.

Women's Union

Amendment to the Constitution of the Women's Union of McGill University: That Section 1 of Article V of the Constitution, which now reads:

Article V.
Executive Council.
Section 1. (a) The executive authority of the Women's Union shall be vested in the Women's Executive Council, which shall consist of the following officers: President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer.

(b) Duties of Officers.
The President shall preside at all meetings and shall be an ex-officio member of the Students' Executive Council.

The Vice-President shall perform the duties of the President in the absence of the latter.

The Secretary shall be in charge of the minutes and of the correspondence of the Women's Union and of the Executive Council.

The Treasurer shall receive all sums accruing to the Women's Union and shall deposit same in a chartered bank. All cheques drawn against such deposits shall be signed by the Treasurer and countersigned by the President. The Treasurer shall also be in charge of the ledgers, receipts and disbursements of the Women's Union.

(c) Election.
The President shall be elected annually in the month of March, by a ballot of the members of the Women's Union. She shall be nominated by at least twenty-five members of the Women's Union. Such nominations shall be in writing and presented to the Secretary at least ten days before the date of election, and published by the Secretary in the "McGill Daily" at least one week before the date of election.

The Vice-President. This office shall be held by the President of the Women's Athletic Association. She shall be elected annually in the month of March by the members of the Athletic Association.

The Secretary. This office shall be held by the Royal Victoria College representative to the Students' Executive Council. She shall be nominated and elected annually in accordance with the regulations providing for the election of the faculty representatives to the Students' Executive Council.

The Treasurer shall be chosen by the Women's Executive Council to hold office for one year, the continuance of the agreement depending on the ratification by each successive Council. She need not be a member of the Women's Union and may be paid a salary.

(d) Term of Office.
The President, Vice-President and Treasurer shall hold office from July 1st to June 30th of the following year.

The Secretary shall hold office from January 1st to December 31st of the same year.

RECOGNITION OF HUMAN WORTH GIVES FREEDOM

Rhys Addresses Philosophical Society Thursday Night

DISCUSSION FOLLOWS

Next Meeting Will Take Place in Two Weeks

Addressing the first meeting of the Philosophical Society on Thursday night on the topic "Is Freedom the absence of restraint?" Howard Rhys pointed out that this definition of Freedom implies a negative idea. "Freedom is positive and so I would define it as the result of universal recognition of man's worth," the speaker stated.

Man's freedom should not be sacrificed for the sake of the state nor should it be encroached upon by other men, Rhys argued, because man is the supreme value and it is only when this is universally recognized that real freedom will exist. Admitting that some restraint was necessary, he declared that it should take the form of self-restraint for the most part.

Discussion Follows.

A discussion followed the address and the speaker was kept busy defending his views against the many attacks that were brought up by the audience. The strongest objection was raised by Dr. Gillson of the department of mathematics. Arguing from a scientific point of view Dr. Gillson insisted that you can't help doing what you do and that all there is to it."

Refreshments were served before the meeting broke up; it was announced that the next meeting would be held in two weeks.

GRID SECONDS MEET ST. DOMINIC SQUAD

If Coach Buster Fletcher is going around looking happy these days it is because the McGill Intermediate gridders remain undefeated. In two starts the seconds have won one tilt and been held to a draw in the other. Monday night the Red Seconds stack up at Molson Stadium against Art Glashen's St. Dominics in an attempt to register their second victory.

Reports have it that the north end Irishmen have been strengthening their line and perfecting a defence against the forward pass. The St. Doms boast of several fine plungers including a Jo-Jo whose other name is Wells, Bill McKenzie and Paul Brouillet. They will be at full strength with the exception of Ken Patton who has been suspended following a slight mix-up in the game with Rockland.

The Redmen have several men on the injured list and have lost others due to graduations to senior company. The match is important to the squad as a win will shoot them into a commanding position. The north end Hornets, too, consider this their biggest test of the year and though they will be greatly outweighed, will attempt to make up for this apparent disadvantage by their speed.

POLITICAL ECONOMY CLUB MEET THURSDAY

The first meeting of the year of the Political Economy Club will be held on Thursday at 8.30 p.m. in the Union Ballroom.

The meeting will take the form of a Mock Parliament, with the student body present acting as members of the House. Monty Berger, who will lead the Government, will present a bill that the Government guarantee a minimum price per bushel for the 1939 wheat crop.

Neville Wykes, president of the Political Economy Club, will lead the Opposition against Monty Berger.

All those students interested and particularly those taking economics who desire to attend the meeting are requested to consult the notice on the bulletin board in the Arts Building. It is necessary that they sign their names to whichever party they wish to represent in the Mock Parliament.

Monty Berger announced yesterday that there will be a party caucus of all those intending to support him in the forthcoming Parliament on Monday at 3 p.m. in Room 15 of the Arts Building.

CZECH CONSUL ADDRESSES IRC

First Open Meeting Held in Union

"Moral Forces Behind Czechoslovakia" Speaker's Topic

The first open meeting of the International Relations Club will be held in the Union Grill Room on Thursday evening, October 27, when the guest speaker will be Dr. Frantisek Pavlasek, consul-general for Czechoslovakia. He has chosen as his subject "The Moral Forces Behind Czechoslovakia" and will discuss the recent events in Central Europe and in particular the destiny of his country.

The McGill International Relations Club was created last spring as a result of a response to the suggestion by students on the campus. The International Relations Clubs, of which there are now over 827 in universities and colleges throughout the world, are sponsored by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. The purpose of the clubs is to study impartially and without propaganda all aspects of foreign affairs.

Supplied With Books.
The Endowment fulfills a valuable service in supplying the Clubs with collections of books and with news-bulletins of current developments. The books of the local unit, including some of the latest and most authoritative writings on world politics, have been installed in the Carnegie Reading Room in the Arts Building. They will be available to students actively interested in the purpose of the Club. It is also planned to have individual copies of the fortnightly Summary of International Events at the disposal of regular members of the Club.

This organization, for which no qualifications for membership have as yet been set up, is of special interest to students in economics, history, philosophy and law. Following the address by Dr. Pavlasek there will be a short period for questions. The meeting will conclude with a business discussion, dealing with plans for open and closed meetings, special study projects, drafting a constitution, attendance at the regional conferences of I.R.C.'s at Swarthmore College in Pennsylvania during November, and co-operation with the recently-

A fine kicker has been uncovered in Jack Brown, former Intermediate performer, and the great Westman is going to have to extend himself to match punts with this boy who outkicked Cam Gray and Lyn Thompson. Joe Turner, late of the Calgary Bronks, is a good running back as well as a dangerous down field tackler. Bud Johnston, the other halfback and also a newcomer to senior football, is a sure catch in the safety spot and a good punter. Doug Annan at flying wing is a last year's veteran who has been doing a great deal of effective plunging this fall. Art Stollery at quarterback is playing his fourth year on the big team and is this year's Captain. Art does all the forward passing and much of the plunging.

In the centre of the line is Nick Paithouski, last year's regular snap, who is playing an even better game on defence this fall. Flanking him are two veterans from Toronto, Jerry Conlin and Tuffy Griffiths, who can hold their own with any linemen in the Intercollegiate. At middle wing are George Sprague and Ralph Jack, two 180 pound towers of strength. George Carson who has been with the Seniors for the past two seasons and Louis Mulvihill, a newcomer to the big time, are at outside wing.

Hugh Sampson is the only sub with senior experience but the others are a hard working, scrappy lot who are fighting for recognition. Ted Bishop, Bob Davis, Ding McGill, and Bob Simpson are backfield reserves while Ken Preston, George Edwards, and Harry Jones or Hal Norman will fill any line vacancies.

visit and retire to private life or remain in the commons as an elder statesman.

It would be a fitting climax for a career which saw him become Prime Minister three times and lead the Liberal party since 1919. His health has been indifferent for several months, and if a strong successor is assured the possibility is not entirely remote that Mr. MacKenzie King might step down.

Hepburn's Attitude.

Political observers, interested in problems of national unity, affirm that the royal visit will have a definite influence in aiding the movement for solidarity within Canada, and will contribute in no small way to silencing the voices of dissension heard in certain provinces.

It is understood federal officials are watching particularly the reaction of Premier Hepburn of Ontario to the plans being made for the reception of the monarch. Mr. Hepburn's indifference displayed when President Roosevelt came to Canada last August, caused some misgiving here, and with the feud between Mr. MacKenzie King and Mr. Hepburn accumulating fire with every exchange of correspondence, the relationship between Queen's Park and Parliament Hill is not exactly amicable even when considerations such as the royal visit arise.

KERR KLAN OUT FOR THIRD WIN

day when he outkicked Cam Gray of Varsity by ten yards on the averages, will be out to repeat tomorrow. Queen's have a competent punter in Jack Brown, who has handled the Tricolor kicking duties this season. In his two games with Varsity and Western Jack has outkicked Cam Gray and Lyn Thompson, which is quite an achievement. So a kicking duel seems to be in the offing for this afternoon when Brown and Westman meet. Alec Hamilton returns to the lineup for the game and has shown great form this week during practice, despite his illness of last week. The two men which were added to the team last Saturday to replace Hamilton and Tabah will again see action this afternoon. Joe Jacobson, who entered his first senior game against Varsity at outside played well and will see action this afternoon. Ernie Rossiter filled in on the backfield last week and will play against Queen's.

Andy Anton, who was a star two weeks ago when he drove through the Western line for long gains, will be raring to go against Queen's. Varsity last week laid for Andy and he didn't get much chance to show his form on the offence. But on the defence Toronto could not stop him from breaking up their plays. Line plungers for the Redmen will have a hard job breaking the Queen's line. In their two pre-season games Queen's held out against two big teams, Nats and Ottawa, and gave a creditable performance. Bob Kenny and Murray Telford will be the two men who will be helping Andy on the line plays.

Keefe Kicking.

In the backfield Bob Keefe should be able to show his heels to the Queen's wings. Besides his fleetness of foot Bob should get a chance to use the placement kick he has been perfecting this week. The need of a consistent three-point kicker has been one of the major weaknesses of the Redmen this year in their four games to date. It was Bob's placement which put McGill out in front of Queen's last year in their game here. But on the last play of that game Queen's came back to kick three points and win by one point.

To catch Jack Brown's kicks will be Russ Merfield who played a good game last week, making sure of all his backfield catches, until near the end of the game when he was hit hard by the Varsity tacklers and fumbled on the run back but not on the catch. With Alec Hamilton back at flying wing McGill's forward passing attack should produce results, as they did in the opening contests. Ronnie Perowne the sixty-minute play caller is ready to go the full route again, along with all the other sixty minute men.

VARSITY RETAINS ITS TRACK CROWN

lin throw, and broad jump, while brother Wallace won the discus and broad jump. 'Lloyd Cooke was another double winner as he won the 880 and mile runs to accumulate ten points for the Redmen while Johnny Loaring was credited with 11 of Western's 19 points as he won the 220 low hurdles and placed second in the 100 high hurdles and 880 yard run.

Two Records Broken.

Despite the cold, chilly weather two new records went down in the books and a third was equalled before the frenzied cheering of over two thousand fans, who were treated to a spectacular exhibition. Wallace Brown broke his own broad jump record of two years' standing with a jump of 23 feet two and three-quarter inches. Courtwright broke his own javelin record of last year with a throw of 191.5 feet, while Cooke tied Crichton's record in the half-mile run.

The biggest upset of the afternoon was credited to McGill's Carl Moskowitz, who beat the great Johnny Loaring in the 120 high hurdles event. Other McGill firsts went to Clarry Frankton, who successfully defended his three-mile crown; to Hayden Bryant, who defeated Ronald Peck, McGill defending champion, in the high jump, and to Lloyd Cooke, who won the mile and 880.

The summaries were as follows: 100-yard dash: G. McHenry, Varsity, won; H. Brown, Varsity, second; W. Fritz, Queen's, third; N. Paterson, Western, fourth. Time, :10.2.

220-yard dash: W. Fritz, Queen's, won; G. McHenry, Varsity, second; T. Falls, McGill, third; N. Paterson, Western, fourth. Time, :22.2.

Medical Examinations—Men Students.

The attention of all First and Second Year students and all students coming to the University for the first time is directed to the following regulation of the University:

"All First and Second Year students in all Faculties, and all students coming to the University for the first time, are required to be medically examined. Students repeating a year in which medical examination is required must be re-examined. Any student who has failed to comply with this regulation before the 1st of November will be fined $5.00. Any student who has failed to comply before the 8th of November will be fined an additional $5.00. Any student who has failed to comply before the 15th of November will be suspended. Students of all years who wish to engage in athletic activities are also required to be medically examined."

"In accordance with the regulations of the Provincial Board of Health, ALL students registering for the first time, must, at the time of registration for the Session, present a certificate of successful vaccination within the past seven years, or of insusceptibility to vaccine within the past five years. The penalties for non-compliance with this regulation are those stated above for the medical examination."

The next examination will be held at 3484 University Street today from 4.30 to 5.30 p.m.

Lost.

Jean Richer of the tennis team had his wallet removed from his locker while playing his match on Monday afternoon. He does not expect the person to return the money, but he would very much appreciate it if this person would set in motion a train of circumstances which would end up with Richer getting the other contents of the wallet—driving licence, etc.
